DOTHAN CITY OFFICIALS INSPECT ALBANY PLANTS

There arrived in Albany at noon today a party of six officials of the city of Dothan, Ala. They are here for the purpose of inspecting Albany's municipal water works and electric light system. The party includes Mayor Joe E[illegible], Clerk R. W. Lisenby and Councilmen B. R. P[illegible], [illegible] and H. Watts [illegible] W. [illegible]

A thriving and [illegible] city of Dothan has [illegible] to purchase its power [illegible] a new power company which [illegible] a water power [illegible] the Choctawhatchee river [illegible] at Newton, Ala. As Albany is known far and wide to have one of the best equipped electrically driven waterworks plants in the south and one of the most satisfactory lighting systems in this section, the power for which is purchased by the city on a plan similar to that proposed for Dothan, the officials of that city decided to visit Albany, inspect the plants here and examine the contract that is in force between the city and the power company.

The Dothan party was met at the train upon its arrival by Mayor H. A. Tarver and Messrs. S. B. Brown and C. W. Tift of the water works and electric commission. They were [illegible] very courtesy [illegible] the Albany officials and given every possible aid in a thorough inspection of the various plants visited.

A number of the gentlemen in the Dothan party brought their ladies with them, and all will stay over for Governor's Day tomorrow.

Fire Aarm System Demonstrated

During the noon hour shortly after the arrival of the Dothan party Mayor Tarver who was with them turned in an alarm from box 3[illegible] of the Gamewell fire alarm system. This was done to demonstrate to the visitors the workings of the system and to show them how quickly Chief James' fire fighters respond when an alarm is given. Neither Chief James nor any of the firemen had been given any intimation that they were to be called out, but the Dothan visitors expressed hearty approval of the manner in which the test was carried out. The firemen although they made a quick response would have done better had the alarm been sent in at some hour of the day than at the time when some of the men were at dinner.

WAS MODERN

The "Modern Ananias" put on here last night by amateurs from Troy was thoroughly modern in the Ananias feature. The young man who started out to lying for convenience, then for protection, then to keep out of very serious trouble makes one third of the man we are liable to meet any day. It's a modern character.

One or two characters played their parts very well for amateurs but it was an unusually small house that turned out to witness the play.

A nice quiet gentlemanly fellow is liable to call on you during the next day or so to ask a few questions, and incidentally to find out if you are taking the daily Eagle and if not why not.

Puffed wheat, and Puffed Rice. It's good. Roland's 124

You know every thought sends these thoughts or atoms subsequently become your intellectual stock and trade. They ultimately become the dominant forces of your organism and compel your line of conduct. In a general sense every man is a free agent, and may do as he chooses. Specifically he can only choose to do what his YESTERDAYS have prepared him for choosing. Or, to elucidate, every man is the servant of his YESTERDAYS. Each TODAY is added to the total of your YESTERDAYS, and each TOMORROW is determined by your TODAY and YESTERDAYS. That is a novel arrangement of the old idea that "every man is the architect of his own fortune." You know this and have known it all along. But maybe you have not practiced it as carefully as you should. It is [illegible] children. You know [illegible] your neighbor should raise his children. Are you raising your own that way? But about that TOMORROW of yours. It [illegible] that you shall [illegible] invited to [illegible] along really [illegible]. It may be that your YESTERDAYS are such that they will not let you accept the invitation. But in a [illegible] of the authorities recently it was decided to give every [illegible] citizen in Dothan one of these invitations. Don't be impatient. You will get one in a few days.

"TIME was when I did not Consider myself fashionably attired unless my the high priced exclusive merchant tailor," said a prominent Dothanite to the writer, recently. "One day he concluded to give us a chance to 'make good' our claims," "and the result is that he has been wearing our clothes ever since."

Prejudice, deep-seated is hard to shake off.

The manufacturers that we buy our Clothing from are producing the finest clothes manufactured in America. That's an admitted fact. YOU, who still lean the merchant tailor way, sooner or late must do as Hunbreds upon Hundreds, of your fellows have done, namely, give our clothing "the fighting chance," which is all we ask or require to "make good."

This is cotton coming-up time.

Beech Hargis and Capt. Hains both come before the public again about the same time.

Another fellow truly said: "The best way to work for a raise is to raise your work."

Castor might get on the wire and say something to Abdul Hamid.

Few jobs ever become so difficult but that some other man will find a way to create one more difficult still.

Three men lynched in a town named Ada. If it had been Adamsville, no telling where they would have stopped.

And every change in hairdressing calls for more hair, and there's still a demand for old hair, discarded by the original grower.

It is supposed to rain today, if the weather man knows, but the street sprinkler hasn't been out, which is a better sign.

Some one has truly said that advertising doesn't jerk, but that it pulls—very gently at first, but the longer you stick to it, the harder the pulling becomes, till the crowds have a habit of calling at that store for what is wanted.

If we don't have the biggest thing here Saturday that ever happened, it will be the fault of no one, so far as we can learn. Elaborate preparations are being made to [illegible] folks, and that will bring a crowd when free tickets will fail.

"subscribers of the congressional record are beginning to think they are getting too much tariff information for their money," remarked the Age-Heald. Whoever heard of a subscriber to the congressional record objecting to what goes in it?

Somehow, the lynching in Oklahoma haven't attracted nearly as much attention as if one-bow-legged negro had been lynched in Georgia, Alabama or Mississippi. The public is not so shocked by a lynching in Oklahoma.

It has been a long time since we heard of a folding-bed tragedy, but last week, in New York—where anything might be expected to happen—a man and his wife were awakene dduring the night, feeling their folding bed quietly closing in on them. It succeeded in catching the woman, and killing her, while the man barely escaped with his life. The thing went together and he could not find the combination, or wouldn't, and the wife went to her reward. And thus, another offense was added to the long list of crimes chargeable to the folding bed of the old style—for we understand the ones that are now made are more law-abiding.

We never know what the weather will be, but the weather man takes a shot at it anyway, and hits 80 or 85 times oft of a hundred, so it's said—and thereby saves his job.

Years, years ago, a minister had a nice litte boy that needed naming. The minister was a God fearing man, and thought it would be a wise plan to name the young hopeful after all the prominent ministers he'd ever heard of, and from the name given the boy, the father knew many. Here is the boy's name: Arthur Hugh Thomas T. DeWitt Talmage Harris Eddy Lane Arland Linnie Ma[illegible] Branch Sam Jones Pigg Reuben Walker Chiles. Poor fellow. He fell in Perkins' creek, in Kentucky, the other day, and, weighted down with that ballast of names, he never rose. His heirs [illegible] show for a damage suit [illegible] the father who perpetrated such a joke on a helpless [illegible] when he was too young for [illegible] to be heard.

The Birmingham Ledger sounds a note of warning that all had as well listen to, especialy we of the small towns. Here it is: "The Ledger cannot publish letter endorsing men for office unless paid for. . . . The Ledger takes pleasure in commenting on the news of the campaign, but letters of commendation are not news, but matters of personal benefit." From this, we judge that some man has asked the Ledger to publish some glowing remarks about some personal friend who is in the race, and it is a good idea for the point here raised, to be thoroughly whipped out. If the cross-road correspondent sends in news items and then takes at whot at the campaigners, one might say that it would be alright, and that it doesn't put the endorsement of the paper behind it, but when the race gets warm, some of the warm friends of some of the warm candidates will be sending in a line or two of local news, with a hundred or so other lines that are not news, but views. This is all very well, but should first be figured on by th advertising manager.

THINK WELL OF IT.

The city officials who went to Albany yesterday to see how that town managed to keep current for its business without operating its light plant, are well pleased with the outlook. They say Albany owns its own plant and it is kept in running order and ready for operation any time the company might have an accident or get sick of the deal. It doesn't find it [illegible] though, for the current is furnished by the company to the town cheaper than the town could supply it.

The Coctawhatchee Light and Water Pwer Co is trying to make a deal with Dothan, whereby it can furnish the town all the current it needs for its own business and then sell current to the different people who might want it. In view of the fact that the light plant is a great fuel consumer, it is very reasonable to suppose that this company can furnish the current at quite a saving, having water power.

"My doctor ordered me to go to Europe."
"Did you follow directions?"
"No. He presented his bill and then went to Europe himself."—Cleveland Leader.

"I suppose you call her a woman of uncertain age?"
"Nothing uncertain about it. She's been the same age for the past ten years."—Boston Transcript.

What do your constituents do with all the garden seeds you send them?"
"I don't know," answered the member of congress. "I have a suspicion they put milk and sugar on them and use them for breakfast food."—Washington Star.

Worn Women

Women, worn and tired from overwork, need a tonic. That feeling of weakness or helplessness will not leave you of itself. You should take Wine of Cardui, that effectual remedy for the ailments and weaknesses of women. Thousands of women have tried Cardui and write enthusiastically of the great benefit it has been to them. Try it—don't experiment—use this reliable, oft-tried medicine.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Rena Hare, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterward wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side and legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. "I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well." Try Cardui. 'Twill help you.

"A CONSENSUS"

Does our present idea of social reformation give that relief which its voteries claim? Are we tending toward stronger and firmer convictions, in regard to taste and feeling, which sustain the physical and promote the mental? Or are our efforts covered with form, which, if supplanted by individual conduct would place us on an equality with those who seek to change. Which is it, the newly made forms of life, which we seek to propagate to better ourselves and others; or are we engaged in an effort, to put these forms into effect, to take the chills off of our own inward selfishness? Answer. Oh! for a microscope to see ourselves six days as we are, then for one on the seventh, to see ourselves as we appear. Various kinds of emotions produce indigestion, as well as errors in Diet. For this take Holland Dyspeptic Elixir. If care and exertion has worn your physical form, so that the body appears lean and the muscles hard; ifyour appetite is gone, take Hollan's Spring Blood Tonic. Our labels are true to name, and represent no more than we claim for the medicines.

Tuesday afternoon at three-thirty, little Lucile Stevens entertained forty of her little friends at her home on Rose Hill. It was the seventh birthday of this little lady, and she never looked more lovely than when she greeted her little guests dressed in a beautiful white frock, with pink sash and pink ribbon in her hair. The presents received were beautiful and evinced the popularity of this little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Stephens. A handsome present was received from Mrs. Hess from fra away Marietta, Oklahoma. The old fashioned games of "Thimble," "King William," "Drop the Handkerchief" and "We're Marching Round the Level" furnished the amusement dining room was beautifully decorated in pink and white festoons of these colors were brought from the corners of the room and met at the chandelier, where a large bose bow hung to the centerpiece, which was a lovely bowl of white roses resting upon a lace centerpiece over pink satin. The refreshments consisted of fruits, candies, cake and ices and the souvenirs were hand painted cards with the dates in pink, tied with pink ribbon.

Our Saving department at the close of its first day's business contained 33 new accounts, a record of which we are proud; but when we consider that the ages of these depositors ranged from 10 months to 73 years, we are convinced that everyone should encourage the habit of saving 4 per. cent in this department.

WILL WAGE WAR ON FLIES.

Going after "cause" with their usual tireless energy, the members of the Anti-Tuberculosis League are endeavoring to have the City Council pay more attention to an ordinance introduced in the Council almost a year ago, in reference to the danger from flies

Dr Greil says the most adaptable breeding place for flies is stable litter, and as long as there are stables in the city and refuse from the stables piled in the yards, unscreened, flies will continue their work of spreading germs

"With a microscope, tuberculosis, typhoid, malaria and other germs can be counted on the legs of flies, by the hundred" Dr Greil says, "and every time they alight they leave germs, a little colony of them, that the draft from an open door may blow into the air, to be inhaled by the passing person

"The danger from flies, bred by the thousand all over the city, in manure piles, cannot be overestimated; they are the most prolific disease spreaders, that is, for diseases of every description that are known

"To combat their work the following ordinance was introduced in the City Council last June It was referred to a committee, and has not been officially heard from since:

Be it ordained by the City Council of Montgomery, as follows:

"That after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation their or its premises, within the city limits of Montgomery, or within the jurisdiction there of any pile or deposit of manure, except in places carefuly screened with fourteen inch mesh wire

"Section 2 Any person convicted of violating Section one of this ordinance shall be fined not less than $100"

Another ordinance, introduced and passed, Dr Greil says, in that in reference to refuse cans, which ordinance is not enforced It is as follows

"Be it ordained by the City Council of Montgomery, as follows:

"That after the passage of this ordinance it be unlawful for any place upon public streets, places or alleys of city of Montgomery any garbage except in galvanized iron cans with closed tops

"Second Any violation of Section 1 of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not [illegible] than $100

Need More La[illegible]

Dr Greil said yesterday in speaking of the matter that the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis League was retarded and its good seriously hampered by the fact that there is not enough laws or those in existence were not sufficient help to the work that is needed He says the prevention work in fighting tuberculosis is the greatest thing the league can do but as things stand the league can only suggest and [illegible] for the laws that [illegible] make them [illegible] the fight are practically nil as far as the authorities are concerned

"With the welfare of the community in mind" Dr Greil said "there should not be a stable inside the city limits that is not given the most thorough sanitary attention by screening its refuse Better still it would be if there were not a stable in the city

The work of having these laws enforced will be kept before the league the leaguers say, until something is done that will have the laws passed and enforced that will enable the league to carry out the great undertaking

In speaking of the flies, one of the local physicians said

"They breed very rapidly and are hardly constituted, it takes an exceptional cold wave to kill them, hot weather is their best friend They travel at great speed and can reach a dining table from any part of a [illegible] ble from any part of a house in a moment Fresh from some orgy in filth, the alight on the food, on the table, walk over it distributing all sorts of germs and the[illegible] from the comparison of health statistis of a city that intelligently combats them with a town that pays no attention to the danger they threaten [illegible] can do
